

Miro is tailored towards storing gaming consoles, made from kerf cut baltic birch plywood, covered with white oak veneer. The details, including the handles, back panels, and bent piece are created from powder-coated aluminum. The back panel features a cut-out in the pattern that is intentioned for cord control. The drawer, ideal for headphones and controllers, has a blend of solid white oak panels with maple splines.